Through long-term development projects, emergency responses and advocacy we've helped bring lasting change to millions of children, over more than 60 years. And as a Christian organisation, everything we do is motivated by our faith as we strive to reflect God's unconditional love.

Work for World Vision UK and you will be part of a truly global Partnership, building brighter futures for vulnerable children.

Job Purpose

You'll be our key thought leader and spokesperson on developing humanitarian and conflict policy in World Vision UK. As part of the Government Relations Team you'll be responsible for connecting with relevant UK Government Ministers, MPs and civil servants as well as other external networks to advocate for the world's most vulnerable children in conflict and humanitarian settings, building networks and contacts to see meaningful policy change in conflict and humanitarian settings. You will also work closely with the Humanitarian and International Programmes team to support grant opportunities and implementation in humanitarian and conflict settings, to reach and support children and their communities. In particular, you will be the key focal point for any Conflict, Security and Stability Fund (CSSF) grant opportunities, supporting acquisition and management, as well as monitoring and evaluation. Sitting in Policy, Technical Support and Communications Team means you'll work with the Media Manager to support on conflict or humanitarian related news opportunities to increase the brand and reputation of World Vision UK.
