

Feasibility Study for Spiritual Tourism Trails and Experiences on the Dingle Peninsula

Detailed description:

NEWKD are seeking a suitable individual/organization to deliver a Feasibility Study for Spiritual Tourism Trails and Experiences at key sites on the Dingle Peninsula, with a specific focus on sustainable visitor experiences. 1. Explore the potential to develop Spiritual Tourism integrated with key sites around the peninsula that include Mount Brandon, St Brendan's Trail, Cosán na Naomh, Maherees and the Holy Wells located across the Dingle Peninsula. 2. Assess the opportunity for a Seven Hogs visitor experience linked with Spiritual Tourism, and linking stories with other county wide spiritual tourism assets such as the Skelligs. 3. Assess the feasibility of developing new experiences that enables the visitor to engage in a sustainable manner with the Maherees and the Maharees Heritage Trail. 4. Assess the sustainable improvement needs of the trails to National Trails Office approved standards to enhance the existing Pilgrim Trails. 5. Examine the best ways to display and celebrate the Dingle Diamond, including the suggestion of a walking route, and other possible avenues to bring this incredible story to the awareness of visitors and locals alike.
