Title

European Hydrogen Observatory

Description

The main objective of this public procurement is the acquisition of services that will ensure: 1. The smooth replacement of the FCHO platform by the European Hydrogen Observatory (hereinafter referred as the 'new Observatory' or the 'Observatory'); and 2. Its further enhancement, for the period that the service contract will remain in force. The primary role of the new observatory will be to act as the European Knowledge Hub for hydrogen, aiming to sustain and further enhance the current position of FCHO as the reference point for information on fuel cells and hydrogen technologies and applications for Europe.
